Ending of Our Half Year.

Prices Less Than Cost.

The Palais Royal's business half year ends June 30.

A strenuous effort to reduce stocks to the minimum begins tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock. It's the art of business to know when to lose money not less than when to gain it.

The success of the Palais Royal is built on judicious losses not less than upon legitimate gains. It's worth many dollars-to us-earning the reputation of the cleanest and brightest stocks in town. And so, beginning tomorrow, we start the "giving away" of Summer Goods.

Less than cost prices is not a misnomer. Those contemplating leaving the city later will do well to secure their supplies now, because prices will never be less, while the assortments of styles, sizes and colors will be depleted daily.
